by astralguide

By policy and discretion we do not publish many of our forecasts and predictions. But by strong demand by various of our readers, we will be posting some of our predictions and forecasts for the years and for the geo-economic areas in the fast moving and changing life of our world.

We used to offer private readings and reports as per requests till 2003 but for now we are not taking any individual orders till further notice. We may entertain some requests from Jan 2007 on case to case basis.

We are not a lucrative site nor interested to sell anything. We do however offer genuine and authentic astral analysis that can benefit individuals, families, cities and countries and all humanity. Our mission is to inform on strategic events and prepare the humanity for forthcoming major challenges and changes that are going to bring about a totally new life style and literally a new world. We shall be posting many useful articles of public interest in early part of 2007!
